DENTISTRY.

(G)— IT is not often that we permit ourselves to speak in terms of eulogy of discoveries on subjects which do not come within our province. We have not sufficient knowledge to do it in the first place, unless indeed the object be visible or tangible, and this is the case in the present instance. Mr. M. LEVETT, Surgeon Bentist, No. 260 Broadway, who arrived some time since from London, has breught with him a new method, which he has put in successful practice here, of supplying the loss of real teeth by artificial ones, without the use of any accessories, such as ligatures, springs or pegs, now in use, nor is the operation, when completed, fellowed by any inflammation or pain. He can best describe his method himself. We will, however, add, that one lady who be has provided with a set of these very necessary embel lishments, is so delighted with them, that she has permitted him to refer enquirers to her whe do not apply from mere idle curiosity, but with a view of profiting by the conviction an actual examination will produce. But for the latter circumstance, we should not have alluded to the subject.

PATRONIZED BY THE ROYAL FAMILY AND THE NOBILITY.

SHARP'S ROYAL BRITISH CERATES AND LINIMENT.

In primordia redigi acquent.

THESE important medical applications enjoyed, for some time before they were brought to general notice, a high reputation with a limited number of the medical profession in the English metropolis, by whom their valuable properties were well understood and fully appreciated. It was on the stoog representation of those gentlemen that the proprietors first resolved to enlarge the sphere of usefulness of bodies calculated, as these unquestionably are, to effect a more extended amount of relief, in diseases or accidents affecting the exterior of the human frame, than any substances previously known, and they are offered to the entire population of the United States with the full conviction that they will be found the most useful an valuable preparations ever submitted to public notice.

The Cerate—which is of a peculiarly delicate nature to the sight and teuch, and, in its original or plain state, equally inoderous and divested of all unctuous character—is prepared in different combinations, especially adapted to the relief of the van ous cufaneus and muscular diseases which have been proved to yield to the influence of its extraordinary power.

The leading general properties of these combinations are the stimulant, absorbest and counter-irritant, added to power healing qualities, which necessarily exist in different degrees, in the various modifications to which they have been subjected, for adaptation to their several intended uses. The Limment and Cerates, thus prepared, constitute, respectively, rapid and effectual remedies for Gaut—in some states. Rheumatic Affections, Lumbugo, Glandular swellings, many instances of Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Yaws, Tumors, Relaxed Sore Throats; Hooping Gough, Croup, Swelled Face or Gums, Nervous Headache, some cases of Deafness, external Inflammation in all its dapes, Boils, Ulcerated and other w powerful series of simple, but effectual, remedies be highly desirable.

The Proprietors give their solemn assurance, that there is not a fact stated with respect to the powers of these substances or to be inferred from the terms either of the foregoing remarks, or of the following directions, which is not fully established in every class of cases, in the private practice of medical men of great respectability in the metropoles; and that each of the preparations, although most effectual in its remedial character, is in the highest degree innocent in its entire composition, and may, consequently, be used with perfect safety.

Anxions to avoid exaggerated or needless representations, the Proprietors abstain from all further remark, beyond the necessary, and rather full, detail of instructions for the use of the several remedies, in the particular cases to which they are applicable; fully assured that the best recommendation for the general adoption of the Gerates and Limineau, will derived from the clear evidences of their efficiency, wherever recourse may be had to them, for rulief in any of the disorders or injuries above enumerated.

The proprietors, satisfied of the unbounded utility of these preparations to all classes of the population, have prepared for general use—and especially for families resident in the country, removed from immediate sacdical advice, as well as for schools and other large establishments—a great number of different assortments, embracing every variety of kind and size, which are kept in a state of readiness at all times. They also draw the attention of parties resident in sea-port towns to the fact, that they have made similar arrangements upon a suitable scale, and in boxes adapted to the wants of the morcantile shipping; where the various and excellent properties at these applications must prove of inestimable value, in the care of the several diseases and injuries to which sailors are, in a peculiar degree, exposed. Assorted chests are also expressly prepared for plantation stores in all foreign countries. It is important to observe, that the Cerates and Liniment will keep or any length of time, and in all climates.

IT IS A MELANCHOLY TRUTH, that in this city as a well as other places, there are numerous adviduals going on rom mouth to month, and even year to year, suffering under a certain disorder which they feel to be destructive both to body and mind Deceived, and almost broken hearted, by the various beasting people, whose pretensions fillous papers, they know not how to act or in whom to confide. It is scarcely possible to imagine the amount of bodily and mental misery arising from the people here alluded to; nor was I aware myself of its full extent, until the publication of my "Private Treatise"—a little volume designed for those who wish for a private, as well as an immediate and perfect cure of these complaints, but which, however, has given me a most abundant opportunity of witnessing these facts. Many, for instance, have assured me, with the bitterest feelings of regret, that they had been led on to take from 10 to 15 bottles of drops; others as many boxes of pills; and others again have fallen into the hands of advertising people, (some of the most boasting of the kind) who, it afterwards appeared, have been entirely ignorant of the different varieties and charges which there complaints assume and undergo. It must, therefore, be strikingly apparent to every thinking person, that nothing is of greater consequence than to ascertain, beforehand, something of the skill and reputation of the physician to be consulted in these peculiar diseases; and it is on this account I deem it proper here to give the following statement of myself:

Beside the rank I hold of graduate of the University of Edinbergh, and member of the follows IT IS A MELANCHOLY TRUTH, that is this city as secount I deem it proper here to give the following statement of myself:

Beside the rank I hold of graduate of the University of Edinbergh, and member of the College of Surgeons, London, &c. &c., as well as being the auther of a volume expressly on these subjects, (the result of nearly thirty years experience,) I have also testimenal, etters from the most eminent of the profession, as Sir Astley Cooper, London, to the most eminent physicians of America, as Dr. Mott, of New York, and Dr. Physick, of Philadelphia, and which I am permitted to show to any one who wishes it. These authorities and qualifications, therefore, allow me, with peculiar satisfaction, to state, that I devote a portion of my time expressly to these diseases, and may be consulted in my private study at my residence, 38 Courtlands street, New York, at any hour.

Those who are afflicted with any defect or complicated complaint of the generative organs, however long standing, will obtain every possible relief; while those who apply in the early stages of the disorder, will be agreeably surprised at the immediate and convenient mode of cure pursued.

Females who wish to state their case by post, or are in any kind of doubt or fear, will meet with the most faithful and delicate attention. On this I would lay the greater stress, because there are various affections incident to the sexual organs, which though resembling certain complaints, are nevertheless perfectly innocent, and to which all are subject. It is a truly awful thing, when such cases fall into the hands of suskilful or unprincipled men

This is to certify that a poor man, whom I have been acquainted with for some time, and after spending nine months in an eye infirmary was discharged by the Physicians of the Institution, with what they termed an incurable Cataract, so that he was nearly blind; a trial of Dr. J. Francis's remedy, three bottles only being used, removed it to the surprise of all who knew him, and now he can see with that eye as well as ever he did, I feel it my duty to give this information for the benefit of the public.

Another case was that of a poor man, after spending twelve months in an eye infirmary, was discharged as incurable with a nebula on each eye. So that he was almost blind—and after using Dr. Francis's Eye Water bu few days, has recovered his sight perfectly.

LATEST AND MOST IMPROVED PATENT TRUSS.

THE attention of those afflicted with Hernia is called to a new Truss, lately patented in the city of New York. It superiority over every other instrument will be evident on a mere inspection, for unlike every other Truss, the rupture pad is pressed upon by a double spring, which is so fixed as to convey the necessary pressure to the lower part of the rupture pad, thus keeping the pad closely applied in every attitude of the body, and adjusting and adapting itself under all circumstances to the person and to the part to which it is to be applied. Possessing a double spring, and consequently a double degree of elasticity, it is rendered easy and convenient to the wearer. The above Truss has taken the place of all others for the permanent retention and cure of hernia or rupture. It is almost the only Truss now in use in the city of New York, and the adjacent country. The above Truss is adjusted and applied by a Surgeon, who has devoted particular attention to the subject of hernia, and the construction and application of Trusses, at his office, No. 2 Ann street, near Broadway, two doors from the American Museum, where they may be had wholesale and rejerty
